Headteacher's Message

I hope that you all had the chance to enjoy the Battle of Britain Air Show yesterday – it was wonderful to see the Red Arrows back in the skies, dazzling us once again with their spectacular display.

We have been very fortunate this week to welcome artist Rory McCann into school. He has created a stunning new mural of much-loved book characters on the stairway leading into the library. Even more excitingly, Rory has secretly added an extra character to the existing mural inside the library itself... Can your children spot who has joined the wall of stories? We'd love for you to take a look at the new artwork next time you're in the building.

In assemblies this week, Ms Guglieri has been speaking to the children about our school expectations around behaviour, learning, and uniform. These reminders help us to keep our standards high and maintain a positive learning environment.

Thank you, as always, for your continued support.

music

It's been a hive of activity in the Music Department at JCP over the past week! I've really enjoyed meeting our new pupils and seeing everyone settling into their new classes.

There's been a wonderful variety of music-making happening — from whole-class ensemble performances, and ukulele playing to choirs, string ensembles, instrumental lessons, and even some lively boom whacker sessions!

One of the highlights of the week was meeting our lovely new Reception children. They sang familiar nursery rhymes and added some magical sparkle by playing twinkly instruments to Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star — it was such a delight to hear.

Music Clubs

Music clubs started in full swing this week. It is great that nearly all our music clubs are fully subscribed.

Signing Choir begins next Thursday from 8.00-8.30 in the Music Room - there is no sign up form, please just turn up,

Please can I remind parents that it is important that if your child attends any music lunchtime music club, or has an instrumental lesson during the lunch hour, they must bring a packed lunch so that they arrive on time for the start of the club or lesson. Hot lunches take a little longer and mean that the children miss the start of the session.
